

UN NIGHT SOUTH INDIA

UN night is a vibrant, cultural and fun experience. Being a part of the South Indian dance was very interesting and fun. Initially, it would be safe to say that I was not very rhythmically inclined in the skills of dancing but with continued practice I was able to learn the steps and perform with energy and vibrance. Through the UN night experience I learned how to collaborate with my peers and learnt the importance of commitment and punctuality. It was very important to be present for all rehearsal times and follow up on the commitment I had made. The rehearsals at times could be frustrating when I was unable to learn a particular step or when my partner was unable to perform a step. At these times, I tried my best to remain patient and supportive. After numerous hours of practice and hard work, the end product was an energetic and vibrant dance. Performing on stage was an exhilarating experience and I will never forget the atmosphere and feeling at the time. I look forward to UN night hopefully taking place next year and being a part of it.
